enjoyed keeping track of the donations with our footballs and soup cans. It is always important to find ways to get the students involved and invested in our monthly service projects.

SOCIAL MEDIA TIPS FOR PARENTS

When it comes to social media, having a set of ground rules is a good idea. It's a great way for parents and kids to work together on how to be safe, wise, and responsible online. Understanding social media and the available platforms is also helpful in navigating as a family.

GROUND RULES

- I will only follow people I know personally.
- I will always show an adult any message or post that makes me feel uncomfortable or threatened.
- I will never share any personal information about myself. This includes my age, my address, school etc.
- I won't post my location. I will adjust the location settings of any programs that let anyone know where I am or where a photo is taken.
- Photos can be shared far and wide with anyone in a matter of seconds. With this in mind, I won't publish anything I wouldn't want my parents, teachers or grandparents to see.
- When it comes to creating passwords, I will create one that would be difficult for someone to guess but also easy for me to remember. I will not reveal it anybody (except my parents or a trusted adult).
- I will check my privacy settings consistently and go over them with my parents. This is to ensure my personal information is protected.
- I will practice T.H.I.N.K. before I leave a comment or send a message: is it True, Helpful, Inspiring, Necessary, Kind?
- I will not upload or tag photos of other people without their permission.
